

SAGA MONTHLY

SIGMA TAU GAMMA FRATERNITY

AN OPEN LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

VOL. 7 | ISSUE 6

JUNE 2023

As my time as SAGA Editor comes to a close, I wanted to write an open letter to the brotherhood of Sigma Tau Gamma. I've seen many transitions being a part of the Headquarters Staff the last seven years. I've helped usher in a brand that feels relevant and fresh, I've met thousands of brothers from across the country at conferences, brotherhood gatherings, and national meetings, and I've had the incredible opportunity to help tell the Sig Tau story from a truly unique viewpoint.

I've also written tributes for brothers who have entered Chapter Enteral too early in life, I've assisted chapters when they've messed up and done something wrong, and I've been in many conversations where the outcome is what needs to happen vs. what we want to happen.

For all the peaks and valleys, I've been a part of in Sigma Tau Gamma, the journey is exactly why the work being done by this brotherhood matters.

Our national volunteers work tirelessly (without pay) to better the Sig Tau experience. The Headquarters Staff work diligently to provide the best resources for undergraduates, to be good stewards of the dues that are paid, and the donations received. And undergraduates begin to build bonds that will last a lifetime while providing a warm and welcoming environment to grow on a college campus. When all three layers come together, something truly magical happens...

THE FLAME OF SIG TAU IS IGNITED.

You can feel the presence of over 100 years of brotherhood. You can sense

THREE THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT SIG TAU THIS MONTH

1

PILLARS FOR PURPOSE CAMPAIGN

The Pillars for Purpose Fundraising campaign is here! New for 2023, Pillars for Purpose focuses on six pillars that the Foundation helps support. Click here to donate

2

LEADERSHIP MEETS IN COLLEGE PARK, MARYLAND

Select undergraduate and alumni leaders from across the country met in College Park, Maryland to discuss how Sig Tau can endeavor forward as a fraternity.

3

AWARD ANNOUNCEMENTS

Missed any award announcements? Check our social media to see which chapters received national recognition for their deserving efforts.

SAGA MONTHLY

1

SIGTAU.ORG

history being made, you can see ideas come to life, and you can watch as conversations turn into actions. These things, these intangible qualities that you just inherently know are good, true, and you can trust, are Wisdom, Purpose, and Nobility.

Never take for granted the pursuit of Wisdom. Continually seek to educate yourself in all walks of life. Through the pursuit of Wisdom, keep an open mind, and you will find your Purpose. Finally, as you go through life, you will learn to lead with Nobility.

I want to say thank you for letting me grow and develop as a brother these last seven years. Thank you for letting me tell the story of your chapter, of your triumphs, and of your brotherhood journey. You never know where Sig Tau will take you, what doors it will open for you, or who you will meet along the way.

Fraternally,

Greg W. Ward

Greg Ward, Alabama