SAGA MONTHLY
SIGMA TAU GAMMA FRATERNITY

RAISING THE SAILS AT ENDEAVOR RETREAT

VOL. 8 | ISSUE 6 AUGUST 2025

In early August, brothers gathered in Louisville, Kentucky, for the Endeavor Retreat, a weekend of strategic planning, programming feedback, and brotherhood. The retreat brought together the Board of Directors and six student leaders: Brett Hays – UNC Charlotte, Samuel Hollier – Auburn, Clayton Sterchi – East Carolina, Miles Vance – Southeast Missouri, Nicolas Velez – Youngstown State, and Freddie Zheng – William Woods.

Together, attendees refined Sigma Tau Gamma's priorities: Growing Fraternity, Financially Stable, Unique and Compelling Member Experience, Great Chapters. Conversations also explored what it truly means to be a Noble Man and reviewed upcoming initiatives like the alumni volunteer project and chapter standards update.

Beyond meetings, brothers took time to connect, strengthening bonds across generations. With the sails raised, Sig Tau is ready to navigate together.

The Endeavor Retreat was a remarkable opportunity to spend time with a group who shares the common goal of building generations of noble men. I left the weekend feeling optimistic for the future of the fraternity and further motivated to contribute my tie and means after graduation.
Brett Hays, UNC Charlotte

The collaboration of different perspectives in our discussion will no doubt be a significant contribution as we build towards our next strategic vision. I was extremely impressed with our undergraduate Brothers and I want to once again thank them taking advantage of that opportunity to work alongside the directors and for their dedication to Sigma Tau Gamma.
Mike Van Camp, 42nd National President

THREE THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT SIG TAU THIS MONTH

1

CHAPTERBUILDER
Don't forget! All associates must be added to ChapterBuilder in order to be added to your roster.

2

SAGA MAGAZINE
The SAGA Magazine arrives this month! Be on the lookout for the Sig Tau's national magazine.

3

MEMBER SAFETY FEE
The member safety fee is the first bill of the semester and is due October 1. Make sure to pay on time as the fall semester can get busy!

FROM THE ARCHIVES

This month, we celebrate the Zeta Alpha Chapter at Arizona State University on their 10th anniversary! Established in 2015 with 60 Founding Fathers, the chapter quickly made its mark on campus. In their first their first official campus fraternity recruitment, they brought in a class full of future leaders and executive board members for their chapter.